

Abstract

The invention concerns a method for obtaining A. niger cultures with wide enzymatic activity spectrum, by culturing A. niger in the presence of beetroot pulp, cereal bran or fractions thereof. The resulting cultures can be used for producing ferulic acid and vanillic acid from agricultural joint products.